

The Vermont State Colleges

Castleton State College

Castleton is small enough to be a community where every student matters, yet large enough to offer 30 academic programs, 20 sports, and more than 40 clubs. Castleton stresses community engagement and sustainability and provides exceptional programs for first-year students.

Community College of Vermont

With 12 locations statewide, Vermont is CCV's campus. Each year nearly 12,000 students enroll in 1,300 courses and 30 certificate and associate degree programs. CCV offers an extensive menu of online courses, and many program requirements are fully available online. CCV provides an affordable and flexible education for students of many ages and backgrounds, with easy transfer and guaranteed admissions to four-year colleges.

Johnson State College

With signature programs in the fine and performing arts, environmental sciences and education, Johnson State College engages students in the classroom and in the community through extensive field-based research, internships and service-learning opportunities. In addition to its 25 bachelor's and 4 master's degree programs, JSC takes pride in a community based External Degree Program that serves 500+ students annually throughout Vermont.

Lyndon State College

Lyndon is known for experiential learning, its spectacular hill-top campus, and distinctive professional programs in meteorology, television studies, mountain recreation, exercise science, music business, visual arts, digital media, and business. First and foremost, our faculty and staff are committed to the personal and professional success of each of our 1,450 students.

Vermont Technical College

Ranked among U.S. News & World Report's top 10 public baccalaureate colleges in the north, Vermont Tech offers hands-on education and experience in more than 25 bachelor's and associate degree programs in specialized areas of study related to agriculture, business, engineering, health sciences and sustainability. Its graduates are consistently sought after by some of the country's most innovative employers.

Special Programs

For Adults

Assessment of Prior Learning (APL) gives college credit for students' college-level learning acquired through work, community experience, self-study or other non-college experiences. Over 7,000 Vermonters have taken part in the program; over 95% earn a college degree.

2011-2012 APL enrollment: 99

The Johnson State College External Degree Program (EDP) helps adult learners with at least 60 credits complete their bachelor's degrees largely in their own community, through a flexible combination of courses offered on weekends, online and in the evening.

2011-2102 EDP enrollment: 1,439

For High School Students

Introduction to College Studies helps students develop strategies for college success. The Dual Enrollment and Fast Forward programs allow high school and technical center students to earn college credit while still in high school. The Vermont Academy of Science and Technology (VAST) offers a full-year alternative to the senior year of high school, allowing students to complete their last year of high school and their freshman year of college simultaneously.

2012 high school enrollment at the VSC: 899

For Business & Industry

Vermont Corporate College helps Vermont businesses meet their workforce and professional development needs, and improve their overall competitiveness and economic performance through a strong combination of regional access, statewide delivery and career-oriented content.

The Vermont Manufacturing Extension Center (VMEC) is a not-for-profit center providing hands-on implementation assistance, on-site and public training, and coaching to assist Vermont manufacturers in achieving profitable growth and increased productivity, and improving their manufacturing and/or business processes.

The Vermont Small Business Development Center (VtSBDC) is a non-profit partnership of government, education and business whose mission is to strengthen existing business entities and assist start-ups with high quality, no-cost counseling and affordable training programs.

Vermont Tech Continuing Education and Workforce Development designs and delivers workforce education and training for and to employers and individuals throughout Vermont.

Vermont Interactive Technologies (VIT) is Vermont's premier videoconferencing and distance learning system, with 15 locations statewide.

2011-2012 workforce education & training participants: 7,388

2012 VIT service users: 23,480
